

Declaration of data protection

As far as there is an opportunity within the online service to enter personal or business-related data (e-mail address, name, address), the surrender of this data by the user solely occurs on an expressly voluntary basis. The usage of all offered services is also possible without entering such data, as well as entering anonymised data or using an alias, as far as it is technically and legally possible and reasonable.

The usage of published contact data as for example in the imprint or similar statements, such as post addresses, phone or fax numbers or e-mail-addresses by a third party in order to send information not expressly asked for is prohibited. „Scramblers“ reserves the right to use all lawful measures against any sender of so-called spam-mails.

We at „Scramblers“ take the protection of your personal data very serious and strictly observe the rules of data protection law. Personal-related data are only surveyed to the technically necessary extent on this website. In no case the surveyed data will be sold or given to a third party for any other reason.

The following declaration gives you an overview, showing how we guarantee this protection and which sort of data is surveyed for which purpose.

- Data processing on this webpage

„Scramblers“ surveys and saves information automatically in its Server Log Files, which your browser sends us. As there are:

- Browsertype / -version
